THE END OF THE TRAIL

I've reached the end of the trail at last,
And oh, it is peaceful here,
With the Valley of Life so far below,
And the gates of heaven so near.
The road is steep and straight and long,
That my weary feet have trod,
But it brought me safe to this hilltop rest,
And tomorrow I meet my God.
The last great river I've safely crossed,
My sins are washed away,
The cross I bore so many miles
At His dear feet I lay.
The end of the trail,—Life's journey done,
And just one final prayer,
Bring peace to those I leave behind,
Help them their cross to bear.
