

JAMES T. CRISCIMAGNA

509 Hawthorne Blvd.

Born: May 4, 1920 Milwaukee, Wisconsin

Died: February 14, 2002

A Memorial Service for Jim "Chris" Criscimagna was held in the Hawthorne Garden of Memories on Wednesday Feb. 20, 2002 at 10 a.m. The cremains were not available for this service. Rev. George Clementson conducted the memorial service for the thirteen family and friends gathered to remember "Chris"

Trudy Adams and George Wolf represented the Hawthorne Memorial Fund.

On Thursday, February 21, 2002, at 2 p.m. Jim's cremains were interred in private with Rose and a neighbor friend present. The Memorial Fund was represented by George Wolf.

James T. Criscimagna

James Thomas Criscimagna, 81, of Leesburg died Thursday (Feb. 14, 2002). Born in Milwaukee, Wis., he moved from Rockford, Ill., to Leesburg in 1978. He was a teacher for the Rockford, Ill., school system, a Catholic, a member of the Moose Club and served in the U.S. Army in World War II and the Korean War. Survivors include his wife, Rose; one son, James of Rockford, Ill.; two brothers, Frank Criscimagna of San Antonio, Texas, and Anthony Criscimagna of Woodstock, N.Y.; and three sisters, Josephine Fazzio, Mary Balistreri and Sadie Librizzi, all of Milwaukee, Wis. Page-Theus Funeral Home, Leesburg.

